Frogmore House & Savill Gardens

£62	INCLUDES GUIDED TOURS OF FROGMORE & SAVILL
Per person

The house dates from the 1680s and was purchased for Queen Charlotte in 1792.

At one time the house was the home of Queen Victoria's mother, the Duchess of Kent. After her death, her son-in law, Prince Albert, commissioned the building of an elegant mausoleum to hold her remains. Queen Victoria was particularly fond of Frogmore's peaceful ambience, and it became her favourite retreat.

The Savill Garden is a place of constant discovery, and of hidden, interlocking gardens, containing distinctive planting groups. The Savill Garden mixes native and exotic species and has bred many important garden hybrids. Each 'garden within a garden' has its own attractions, and the gardens are ever-changing with every season bringing new colour and interest.
